Six Original Skits Selected By Clubs For Entertainment

Thanksgiving Eve Features Diversified Acts at Wash- ington Auditorium

Six organizations will produce as many original homecoming skits in competitive participation to be presented on the stage of the Washington Auditorium Wednesday night, November 24, at 8:30 o'clock. These acts will serve as a curtain-raiser to The George Washington University's first annual homecoming, according to Daniel Beattie, in charge of organization for the entertainment.

The student committee in charge of George Washington's first Homecoming is under the direction of Jack Goode, Student Council member and chairman, and consists of C. Manley Fesler, William Hanback, Ruth Warren, Karl Dieffenbach, Dan Beattie, Wendell Bain, Bourke Floyd, Lester Gates, George Wenzl, and Ted Rinehart, who also serves on the alumni committee.

The night of Thanksgiving eve will feature unique and diversified entertainment if the enthusiasm of participants, implied at a committee meeting held in the Troubadour office at 700 Twentieth street, is any indication. Shirley Graff, representing Panhellenic Council, disclosed their plans for a campus burlesque entitled, "The Freshman's Nightmare." Reginald Mylkes announced that the Interfraternity act will feature a group of smart-stepping chorines in "Interfraternity Burlesque." The sophomore class, according to Bourke Floyd, will present campus personages in "Chips Personified." The freshman class is working on a presentation entitled "A Skittish Homecoming." Richard Creyke informed the group.

1932 Cherry Tree Photographic Staff Plans Appointments

Casson Studio to Be Official Photographer; Given Makes Arrangements

Promising an entirely new make-up and the introduction of many innovations never before attempted at The George Washington University, the 1932 Cherry Tree Board under the leadership of Ralph McCoy, is now hard at work perfecting photographic arrangements.

It is planned to expedite the work and at the same time make it as convenient as possible for the many seniors, members of fraternities, sororities, campus clubs and organizations, and others who will have their pictures made for the annual, to have them made with the greatest facility.

The Casson Studio, official photographer for the annual, has recently opened a spacious studio at 1333 Connecticut avenue where every detail of photographic exactness and personal comfort have been combined. The proximity of the studio should have an immediate appeal.

A large number of the organizations have already made exclusive appointments at hours most convenient for them through the photographic manager, Bill Given, while others are utilizing the periods on Tuesday and Thursday evenings when sittings are being made from 8 until 10 p. m. Pictures can also be made anytime during the day without appointment.

The charge for individual sittings will be $2.00 until January 1. All pictures made after that date will be $2.50 for a limited period of time. This payment entitles the student to as many pictures as is necessary for the annual, without further charge.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Attention is called to the University regulation prohibiting the publishing of publications directly or indirectly connected with the University without the prior approval of the University Committee on Publications.

Booking for Troubadour Show Extended to Four Nights; Will Open Wednesday, December 14

Dennis Connell, Director,
Lauds Diverse Appeal of Libretto, Music

"In my opinion, 'Oh Say! Can't You See?' is a musical comedy of real professional caliber." This is the way Dennis Connell, Washington's foremost dramatic coach, lauds Dan Beattie's book for the Troubadour production to be given four nights, beginning Wednesday, December 14, Tech auditorium. "The plot," Mr. Connell states, "builds up a sustained climax and is entirely different from any collegiate production with which I am familiar. The story shines where many New York productions fall short because the plot is finished, plausible, and chuck-full of human interest. The musical

"Cock Robin" Makes Your Blood Run Cold; Stars Orleans, Chittum, Gunnison

It's Funny When They Murder Cock Robin by Mistake; More
So When They Attempt to Discover the Culprit;
Backstage Settings Are Unique

A play within a play, a miniature theater on the stage featuring actors and audience, applause, sarcasm and humor, and a murder which was supposed to be only a dramatic portrayal by an amateur theatrical group but which turns out to be the real thing, "Cock Robin" combines all these elements to make your blood run cold and cause you to shriek with laughter.

This play, from the pen of Messrs. Barry and Rice, will be staged at the Wardman Park Theater by Cue and Curtain on Friday and Saturday nights, November 18 and 19. It is under the direction of Constance Connor Brown, director of dramatics at the University.

A satire on amateur dramatic efforts, the play centers about the efforts of the Cope Valley Players and their attempts to produce "Robin Hood." On the stage the audience sees portrayed the final rehearsal of the Robin Hood drama, which, much to everyone's amazement culminates in the actual murder of a member of the cast. Immediately an attorney, a member of the Cope Valley Dramatic Club, takes the situation in hand and an effort is made to solve the murder without the intervention of the police. From that point on the three-act drama presents swift-moving, thrilling, and hilarious action taking the audience back-stage in the course of its plot.

Orleans Is Lead
The lead in "Cock Robin" is played by Sol Orleans, whose role is that of "a hard boiled trouser of twenty years experience" who condescends to strut his wit and crude cynicism before the astounded and amazed natives of Cope Valley. Orleans will be remembered and his fine performances in "Contrast" and "The Queen's Husband," two Cue and Curtain productions of last year.

Royal A. Gunnison, a newcomer to George Washington dramatic circles, takes the part of the smooth, sophisticated villain who falls victim to the fatal shot substituted for the harmless dart called for in the Robin Hood script. Gunnison has to his credit stock company experience gained by his stage appearance in Seattle and other western cities.

The ingenue lead brings before the Wardman Park footlights another fa-

Appearance of Law Review Announced By Prof. McIntire

First Issue of New Quarterly
Will Be Distributed On November 23

Containing more than 150 pages of governmental public law material, the November Bicentennial issue of The George Washington University Law Review will be distributed to subscribing students on Wednesday, November 23, according to John A. McIntire, faculty editor-in-chief of the publication.

This, the first issue of the quarterly, will contain three leading articles: "The World Court and Senate Reservations," by George W. Wickersham, former United States Attorney General and president of the American Law Institute; "Administrative Justice and the Enforcement of Quasi-Criminal Law," by William C. Van Vleet, dean of the School of Law; and "Necessity of Preliminary Resort to the Interstate Commerce Commission," by Clarence A. Miller, lecturer in law at the University and assistant to the general counsel for the American Shore Line Railway Company.

Other features of the issue include book reviews and student notes on taxation, patent law, martial law, Sher-

Wandering Greeks Will Make Petition To Student Council

Unaffiliated Fraternity Men
Organize to Secure Campus Recognition

University men students whose fraternities do not have chapters at George Washington, have banded together during the past week and will petition the Student Life committee for recognition as a local organization. A committee has been at work for several weeks preparing the petition and other necessary organization work, a member stated yesterday.

A social program including a "Wandering Greek's Ball" to which resident fraternity and sorority men and women will be invited, and an athletic schedule in conjunction with the Interfraternity Council have also been contemplated.

Charter members include: Waldo Abbe, Sigma Phi; Joe Carter, Beta Theta Pi; Nick Carter, Delta Upsilon; Brendel Gettys, Beta Theta Pi; George Huff, "Sack" Kennedy, Phi Gamma Delta; Pete Kline, Beta Theta Pi; Bob Savage, Pi Kappa Alpha; Tom Taylor, Pi Kappa Alpha; Charlie Trammell, Chi Phi; Charlie Touhnton, Phi Kappa Tau.

According to the statement of one of the charter members, the non-affiliated fraternity men feel that they have enjoyed the hospitality of local houses long enough and that now "the worm will turn" and the "wandering Greeks" will entertain their former hosts.

Alumni Association Will Back Football Dinner at Mayflower

One hundred dollars has been donated by the General Alumni Association of George Washington University toward a dinner to be given in honor of the football team at the Mayflower Hotel, Thursday, December 14, according to a statement made public today by Dr. Daniel L. Borden, president of the alumni group of the University.

Lyman Dishman will be in charge of the event, which is being sponsored by the Athletic Department, and will be open to all students and alumni of the University. Announcement will be made at a later date as to the procedure necessary in obtaining tickets.

Heretofore it has been the custom to include among the guests at the dinner several men prominent in the athletic world, coaches, former grid stars, newspapermen, and other alumni who have had active interest in football.

Men's Glee Club Roster

The roster of the Men's Glee Club will be posted this week on the bulletin board in Corcoran Hall, according to Dr. Robert H. Harmon, director of the club.

He's Fast and Flashy

Halligan is right end on the William and Mary eleven and can usually be counted on to smear any play that comes his way. Watch him closely next Friday evening.

Marvin, on Western Trip, Pleased With Alumni Enthusiasm

Meets Los Angeles Group Tomorrow in Last Pacific Coast
Stop—Denver Next

"Fine meetings and wonderful enthusiasm" are reported by President Cloyd Heck Marvin, who is on a tour of George Washington University alumni clubs in the West.

On October 31 a luncheon meeting of George Washington alumni was held at the Newhouse Hotel in Salt Lake City. William Frank Reef, M. D. 1892, president of the George Washington University Alumni Club of Utah, presided and introduced the president. His talk at the meeting was received with enthusiasm by the large group in attendance, and was reported at length by Salt Lake newspapers.

A dinner meeting arranged by Oscar A. Zabel, LL.B. 1928, was held at the Washington Athletic Club in Seattle, Wash., on the evening of November 2.

Hoover Garner 1,131 Votes in Poll; Roosevelt Second With 1,012 Ballots

Norman Thomas Polls 401 Tallies to Gain Third Position, While Minor Candidates Trail; Junior College
Leads in Balloting

Herbert C. Hoover, the Republican candidate for the presidency, receives 1,131 votes in the final returns of The Hatchet poll. Franklin D. Roosevelt is second, polling 1,012 ballots; Norman Thomas third with 401 votes. Foster, Upshaw and Webb are far behind the three leaders, having 50 votes, 6 votes and 4 votes, respectively.

Junior College students cast the greatest number of ballots, 1,232, while the Law School, despite its comparatively small enrollment, was second in the number cast, 806 students sending in ballots. Pharmacy achieved what might be termed a rather infamous notoriety by casting but 2 ballots, the smallest number submitted by any college.

It cannot be said that Hoover received most of his support from any one group, as throughout the poll Roosevelt was close behind him at all times. The Republican candidate achieved his George Washington University victory by maintaining a small lead in the majority of the colleges.

Hoover attained a majority or plurality in Junior, Columbian, Engineer-

Game Friday Eve Continuation of Friendly Rivalry Between the Two Schools

DEFEATS NAVY, 7 TO 0

Buff and Blue Gridmen Expect to Reach Peak of Mid-season Form in Fray

By ROBERT P. HERZOG

Breaking a string of three inter-sectional tilts, the Colonials meet William and Mary College from nearby Virginia next Friday night in Griffith Stadium. George Washington has been a friendly rival of the Williamsburg team for many years due not only to the proximity of the college, but because of the many Washingtonians in attendance.

When the opening whistle blows at 8 p. m., an eleven of unquestioned ability will be sent into action. With a record of six victories and two defeats in a schedule with some of the best teams in the country, this small college has risen into the front ranks of the football world.

Putting Navy to rout, and being downed by Army's crack eleven only after a tough fight, is only a little of the indications of the prowess of this team. The showing made against V. M. I. last Saturday adds considerably to the prestige of the eleven.

Opening their football season by conquering the Roanoke team, 6-0, they showed early signs of strength by eas-

Engineering School Organizes Council

Ray Heimburger Heads Engineers' Council; Constitution Drawn Up

Students of the George Washington University School of Engineering have begun the organization of an Engineer's Council, with Ray A. Heimburger as temporary chairman, with a view toward sponsoring anything beneficial concerning the societies and fraternities of the school.

Dean John Raymond Lapham has heartily approved of its formation, believing that it will truly represent all engineering students in matters of importance. Phi Theta Pi, Sigma Tau, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will each have two delegates on the council. The Engineering School representative on the Student Council will automatically become a member of this body.

WASHINGTON, D. C., TUESDAY NOV. 8, 1932.

We Are Disappointed With the Freshman Class.

Wake up, Freshmen! A few weeks ago you came to George Washington bubbling over with a school spirit imparted from your hectic high school days. All eyes were upon you. Every scheme of orientation that the University could devise was employed to lead you out of the wilderness of collegiate confusion which attends the entrance of every yearling into a new educational environment. You responded nobly to the treatment. Great things were expected of the class of 1936.

But the spirit of "up and doing" faded swiftly into oblivion. Those who refused to be convinced of its passing excused your class with the panacea for every lethargy—rushing, it was urged, occupied your undivided attention. But that has been written into the archives of social history. And, Frosh, unconscious of your stagnation you continue to disappoint even the most faithful and ardent adherents to your cause.

The passive interest shown in class elections was the first definite and positive sign of impending disaster. Following that deterioration was inevitable.

Freshmen, take a plunge into the cold shower of responsibility and rouse yourselves! G. W. imposes no obligations upon you. It does not subordinate you to upperclassmen. It's up to you to prove that this method is desirable and if it is not you are bound to employ your ingenuity in maintaining a unified class entity.

This is the only time during your university career that you will ever be able to accomplish much as a class unit. Due to the size of the University and peculiar organization, which makes possible day and night classes, next year will find many of your members enrolled in other sections of the University. The future of a Buff and Blue school spirit lies in your class. And that class must rise to the occasion NOW while it is a working entity. It is not too late. FRESHMEN, DO SOMETHING!

We Remind You That You Owe a Letter.

Swarming to G. W. from every section of the nation in an endeavor to acquire a University education, students on the campus represent one of the most cosmopolitan groups in America! Back in Pee Wee Dell a fond mother and dubious father have sacrificed more than they care to admit to send Mary and Johnny away to school. And the home folks are wondering where you are, what you are doing, and "how you're getting on."

The first chapter of social activity and the process of orientation has been concluded. Dust off the ink bottle, hunt for the stationery, and take the pen in hand (even at the expense of a missive to the girl or boy you left behind), and write a long letter home describing the glories and trials of your new environment.

To those readers who take particular offense at sentimentality, cast that element aside—The Hatchet seeks no crocodile tears—but take the hint. Many miles separate several thousand George Washington students from the home firesides. Each mile represents a goodly number of worries (despite their apparently imaginative qualities) on the part of the home folk. This is especially true of parental anxiety regarding freshmen. But to upperclassmen and freshmen alike—if you live out of the city make it a self-imposed obligation to write a letter home at least once a week.

We Do Not Accept Dares By Anonymous Writers.

Each week the editorial offices of The Hatchet are bombarded by well-meaning editorial ideas. Whenever such ideas appeal to the editorial staff as worthy of editorial comment such comment is made. Whenever such letters are signed they are published.

Occasionally some brilliant individual "dares" The Hatchet to print this, that or the other thing in its editorial columns. While we admire the courage which prompts an anonymous writer to challenge our editorial policy we have not degenerated to a point where we will print editorials merely to indicate that such superficialities as "dares" hold no sinister implications for The Hatchet. We have never failed to express ourselves quite freely on anything material. Nor have we hesitated to open the columns of this publication for absolutely uncensored student opinion providing it was relevant and in good faith. For that reason we have requested signatures. But we have not and will not allow anonymous contributors to cajole us into petty nonsense by suggesting that we would hesitate to accept a challenge. Whenever possible The Hatchet has taken the initiative in a critical comment for the construction and improvement of University affairs but we will not sacrifice our judgment to answer "dares" merely to appease a correspondent who lacks the fearlessness of signing a name which it is assured will be kept in confidence.

Bouquets and Brickbats

More flowers from an editorial bouquet.....and some, brickbats, too.....THE ORCHIDS GO TO THE PIXLEE AGGREGATION.....and more of the expensive blooms to the very professional-appearing and well written Monthly Literary Review issued with The Hatchet Tuesday (no, we're not pinning any roses on ourselves).....and we do like the plan of free cigarettes and coffee at the intermissions of Barrie and Rice's better bit, "Cock Robin." Cue and Curtains collects its share of posies on that. (Here's hoping we can give them orchids on the presentation of the drama).....a few of the choicest blooms in our bouquet to the Student Council for furnishing homecoming stickers for distribution at Quigley's.....roses to the histology prof who permitted the uninterrupted slumber of a sleepy student in his five o'clock class Wednesday afternoon (we have his name).....and plenty of brickbats and thistles for the botany prof who reported three students to a cop for alleged violation of a traffic ordinance on G street not so many days ago, and waited to point out the erring students until the minion of the law arrived.....(we know all about that, too).....and plenty of flowers for said cop who declined to give the offenders a tag.....and orchids to the law prof who finds it necessary, occasionally, to brave the smiles of a late afternoon class by appearing in soup and fish regalia.....and violets to the class which doesn't wise-crack.....the Liberal Club gets well deserved thistles for its distressing informality in the conduct of the meeting Tuesday night.....but orchids for its ambitious plans for bringing Stuart Chase to the city.....and there are no roses for the Democrats and Republicans that failed to appear or send word of non-appearance.....nothing but orchids for the Law School which set an excellent example on the campus by installing student lockers (and the rental fee is reasonable enough).....a neighborhood cafeteria deserves a violet or two for the inauguration of its depression dinner dance policy (no attempt at commercialization of this kolm intended).....roses to Cue and Curtains, which, under the direction of its secretary furnished a delightful bit of entertainment between halves at the North Dakota game Friday night (even though it was a publicity stunt for "Cock Robin").....and we can't help but throw a few individual orchids to.....the six men eligible to Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman scholastic fraternity.....the eleven medics, charter members of Smith-Reed-Russell, newly organized honorary-medical scholastic society.....and the six women pledged to Hour Glass, honorary activity unit.....decided American Beauties to the doctor on the med school staff who threw a most delightful Halloween party at his country mansion in Virginia Monday night (we are told it was "open house" from basement to attic).....orchids for the Buff and Blue football player (our "crawling guard") who assisted in aiding an injured North Dakota warrior off the field.....and we're plenty happy to strew roses to an exceptionally improved student cheering section (after all these weeks).....and the athletic board deserves a bouquet for its reservation of a section for the band.....those Buff and Blue musicians get posies for a fine bit of marching and some much improved playing.....a rose to the ambitious drum major even though he missed the first goal post thrust (he was successful at the opposite end of the field).....to the editorial board of the new George Washington Law Review we present orchids (it will contain 150 pages of really good legal articles).....

CHIPS

Whew! What a team! What a game! What a coach! That breather turned out to be quite a pant for the North Dakota boys.....This here anonymous gossip sheet will not faze Betty or little Rollo in the least. Competition will be met at the old stand with no cut in prices. But, oh boy—it sure is giving our faculty the jitters. A twiddle de de for our gallant drum major and his crew. Better luck on that goal post toss next time. It was Stumm batting for Jenkins and not Stumm for Stumm at the T. D. hut last week, as was previously reported.....Marie McCammon must furnish Hay with consolation for his lost Grace at those frequent afternoon sestas in the old Delta Shells.....It's a different opinion we have of this Win Weitzel fellow since 'tis discovered that "Ginny" Hawkins' maw sewed her up in her Halloween costume to attend the Phi Sig brawl.....Dille stalking the unwary Delt social chairman who tossed her and friend Malkus out in the cold when they tried to crash the closed dance. Evidently, they meant closed.....One pair of rubber shoe strings to the person who catches that bird that Virginia Jones floats around listening to all the time. It looks all stick and goosey when B. P. O. C. Hanback and the younger Critchfield are seen together.....Here's to the freshman, Lucille McGeehe, who forgot her ticket at the Dakota game and told the doorman she was Caroline Griffith, the owner's daughter, in order to crash the gate.....Who is the PiEie who's taking less hours so that she may return to be president next year, and how about the two dear sisters who have promised to return to thwart her plans.....Dart O'Keefe has an attack of the gout—cause: eating too much highly spiced meat?? What is it that Agnew and Sherkey go chasing around in box cars at 7 o'clock in the morning to talk about?.....So intent is Anita Dunlap in her own social lines that if it had not been for an alert Hatchet proof-reader there are a lot of young coeds who would have been surprised to find that they had been pledged to Arrow Glass.....If these groups that talk about the national standing pledge many more, that statement will be all too true, for there won't be any room to sit down.....Someone charged an expensive pair of pajamas to the account of the University's assistant comptroller (the same thing can be purchased at a lower price elsewhere).....Professor Baker crashed through again for the absent-minded prof's trophy, when he said, "This play is based on the old Bible story—the one about John the Baptist dancing before Herod.".....This department, true to its conservative journalistic traditions, will lend no support to the rumor that someone passed the freshman history exam unless satisfactory proof is presented.....A mouthful of weeds to the erudite individual who takes up class time telling Dr. Moss his own views on psychology.....Cider and freshmen ran all over the floor at the freshman dance.....I bet it tickled "Billie" Given to see that error in The Hatchet last week.....It must be great cause for sorrow among the Troubadour chorus ranks when the subtle bouncers as 'twere, also were bounced.....Rollo's natal week came to a roaring close with the following felicitations from—Kappa Kwanis: Congratulations on your birthday, Rollo, and many thanks for the publicity and kind thoughts during the year. May you never grow older! Pi Phi: Now you're old enough to be weaned. When you have some teeth, come and see us. Grace: You !!!XXX! ?!, — — — — — Chi Omega: You darling! May you have many more years to knock our rivals.....Mrs. Barrows: Felicitations! When I receive The Hatchet each week, I lose no time in reading your column.....Professor Moss: Fine, Rollo, but remember it's the mental age that counts.....Betty Rollo: Little brother, you're doing fine for one so young. Eventually I may be proud of you. The Rest of the University: Ho-hum! (Business of yawning).....Betty Rollo regrets that she did not have enough notice to send Yours Truly a gift. Don't let that deter you, Betty—or any one else. Better late than never.....In answer to many requests, this column is and has been for the past year the efforts of not more than two individuals and not the collective gibberings of the entire Hatchet staff.....Let's go home and rest up for that William and Mary game.....A little cheer and pleasant dreams.....Au revoir, DICK ROLLO.

Law Professor Addresses Gamma Eta Gamma Group

Chester Oppenheim, professor of law at the George Washington University was the guest speaker at a meeting of Gamma Eta Gamma, professional legal fraternity. The gathering was held at the Tally Ho Tavern, Monday night, October 31.

Professor Oppenheim discussed the right of the accused to waive a jury trial in a felony case.

The policy of presenting some prominent legal authority as guest speaker at dinner meetings held once every two weeks, will be carried out this year.

Professor Omitted From Advisor List

The name of Professor Paul W. Bowman, assistant professor of botany, as a junior college advisor, was omitted from the list of advisors published in the last issue of The Hatchet.

He will be available in his office, I-32, on Mondays and Wednesdays from 10 to 11, and again at 3, on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4 o'clock, and also by appointment.

Pi Beta Phi Founder Dies; Local Women Drape Badges

Mrs. T. B. Turnbull, one of the 12 Monmouth College coeds who founded the first college sorority in America, died in Philadelphia Friday, according to the Associated Press. Burial took place yesterday.

The I. C. Sororis was founded April 26, 1867, and grew into Pi Beta Phi fraternity.

Members of the George Washington Chapter of Pi Beta Phi will wear a black ribbon beneath their badges in mourning.

Dr. Borden Speaks Before Meeting of Medical Students

Dr. Daniel L. Borden will speak at a meeting of pre-medical students in Hall A of The George Washington Medical School, 1335 H street n.w., on Monday, November 21, at 8 o'clock. He will illustrate his talk by showing some of his motion pictures of operations.

The students will be greeted by Dr. Earl B. McKinley, dean of the Medical School, and by other members of the staff. Admission cards have been sent to all pre-medical students registered in the Junior College.

Speakers' Congress Hotly Debates Protective Tariff

The Speakers' Congress held a debate on "Resolved, That a high protective tariff is advantageous economically to the United States," on Wednesday, November 2, in Corcoran Hall 17. The affirmative was upheld by Forrest Burgess and John Barbers, while David Betts and Douglas Heslep defended the negative side. Both arguments were so effective that the audience was evenly divided as to the winning side.

NOTES ON COLLEGIATE ACTIVITIES

Collegiate Activities Favored by Ragatz

"Extra curricular activities should be at least as important as book learning," is the belief expressed by Professor Lowell J. Ragatz, the guest speaker at the freshman smoker held in Stockton Hall last Tuesday evening.

This opinion, while perhaps not an orthodox one, is Prof. Ragatz' strong conviction. He pointed out the merits of college activities in the development of social grace and ease through closer association with other people. "The bookworm does himself no good, and certainly he does no one else any good," he remarked.

Invariably those people who were the leaders in activities during their college days become the community leaders and public figures in later life. Another interesting fact Prof. Ragatz pointed out was that in almost every case those men and women who attain prominence in college activities are those who make the best scholastic averages.

There has been too much stress laid on athletics in college life, Dr. Ragatz believes. "While they are a source of enjoyment in college, the participant derives little lasting benefit from them." He thinks that more stress should be laid on such activities as dramatics, debate, newspaper work and related fields.

Dr. Ragatz, in urging every student to affiliate with at least one activity, stated that everyone would be well repaid for his time and effort spent in that direction.

Delta Phi Epsilon Hears Gonzalez

The interesting aspects of Latin American commerce and diplomacy was the theme of the talk given by Dr. Manuel Gonzalez, the principal speaker at the Delta Phi Epsilon smoker last evening at the Theta Upsilon Omega House.

Dr. Gonzalez's account was based on his personal experiences in this section of the world. He is at present counselor of legation and charge d'affaires of Costa Rica.

Dr. William F. Notz, dean of the School of Foreign Service at George-

Colonials End Bison Winning Streak, Score 20-0

Hitherto Undefeated North Dakota State Eleven Vanquished

Night Game Thrills 13,000 as Buff and Blue Gridmen Show Punch and Fight

By JOHN BUSICK

Another Mid-West representative fell at the hands of the Colonials last Friday night when the Bisons of North Dakota State were turned back in Griffith Stadium, 20-0. Making it two in a row over intersectional rivals, Pixlee's charges were even more convincing than in their victory over Iowa the previous week.

Undefeated before meeting G. W. U., Coach Casey Finnegan's North Dakotans lost all hopes of a clean slate before the vicious onslaught of the Colonials' unexcelled aerial attack and the hard running of Johnny Fenlon, Nig McCarver and Joe Carter.

However, in Fritz Hanson the Bisons offered a ball-carrier who single-handedly threatened the Colonials' composure on frequent occasions. Bearing the title of one of the dreaded "jack-rabbit" backs, this fragile-looking lad lived up to the reputation of his colleagues by breaking away several times for long runs and proving to be a constant menace all evening.

For the first time this year, Coach Pixlee was able to start a strong backfield combination and keep a sustained attack in action throughout the game. Alternating Fenlon, McCarver and Carter as the chief running backs with occasional help from Baker and Kriemelmeyer, the Bisons were kept on the defensive most of the game.

Half Ends With Score

The initial Colonial score came in the closing seconds of the first half after six consecutive drives at the final stripe from the 3-yard line had failed to push the ball over. The State line restored to the trick of offense on each play, stalling for time, but McCarver slashed over on a short dash as the gun barked for the half. Baker kicked the goal.

With this lead to work on, the Colonials began hammering away at the Bisons' line again. The burden of the attack fell on Joe Carter, driving fullback, who carried the ball from his own 26-yard line to midfield on a series of short line plunges. Here the visitors' line stiffened and Carter was forced to kick.

Following an exchange of punts came Hanson's sensational 70-yard sprint to the Colonial goal line only to be called back for stepping outside on the 26-yard marker. This was the invaders' chief scoring threat, although early in the period Hanson ran back a punt 52 yards to the 48-yard line, being stopped by the last G. W. U. man in his path, Johnny Fenlon.

Beginning the final period, the Colonial attack swung into its strongest power. Hardly had the ball been moved into position for play when the Bisons, serials failing to gain, went into punt formation. With Jacobson back, the ball was passed, but a swarm of G. W. U. men covered Jacobson, the kick was blocked, and Chambers recovered.

McCarver Scores

Immediately quarterback Johnny Baker set out to capitalize this break. Fenlon made 13 yards around left end and the "indomitable" Nig crashed the remaining 3 for the touchdown. Baker then missed his first kick in 10 tries.

The Pixlee steam-roller pushed over its last tally late in the final period. The invaders, continually being stopped at the line and often losing ground, were now desperately striving to gain via the air. The Colonial forwards, led by Galloway and Blackstone, thwarted each Bison attempt and G. W. U. gained the ball on the North Dakota State 33-yard line.

Again Johnny Baker seized his opportunity quickly. McCarver got away for 19 yards through left tackle, his first sizable gain but a beautiful slash. Kriemelmeyer and McCarver then made a first down on three line plunges. A pass from Fenlon to Chambers netted 15 yards and Baker himself made 4 more over center.

On the next play the Colonial forward wall opened up beautifully and Fenlon, shaking off three tacklers, scored around end for 16 yards and a score. Baker began a new streak by splitting the goal posts with his kick. Only a few minutes remained before the final whistle, but the game ended with North Dakota State still attempting in vain to shake Hanson loose.

William-Mary Wins; Oklahoma Defeated

William and Mary 20; V. M. I. 7.
Oklahoma 6; Missouri 14.

The William and Mary Indians, through the brilliant work of Charlie Shade, quarterback, cast a gloomy shadow over the V. M. I. Flying Squadron last Saturday by defeating them for the first time in their ten gridiron encounters.

The Oklahoma Sooners, staging their annual homecoming last Saturday, went down under the crushing blows of Coach Frank Carideo's Missouri Tigers.

Bill Panze, stellar Oklahoma halfback, has been out of competition for more than two weeks with a serious knee injury. Dick Simms, another back, is suffering from a torn ligament. These Sooners' injuries should be healed sufficiently for the Colonial-Sooner clash on November 24.

Colonial Freshman Eleven Defeated By Yearlings of Western Maryland In Hard Fought Contest on Saturday

One of the Indians

Palese plays in the halfback position for the William and Mary Indians and received an all-American mention last year. He is expected to give the Colonials plenty of trouble Friday night.

Early Colonial Lead Overcome; Plotnicki Stars Behind Formidable Line

George Washington University's freshman football team was defeated 13-6 by the frosh of Western Maryland in a hard-fought game at Westminster, Saturday, November 5.

Coach Sexton's men took the lead early in the first quarter, but the Terrors tied it up in the second and went on to win in the third period while holding the Colonials scoreless the rest of the game.

The Colonials' score came as the result of a beautifully placed kick by Plotnicki which bounded out on Western Maryland's 5-yard line. The enemy kicked out to their own 35-yard stripe, but from there, with Plotnicki and Davenport carrying the ball, George Washington advanced to the 1-yard line, where Bomba took it over through center. Plotnicki's place kick was short.

In the second quarter, Cumberland, Western Maryland's quarterback of Central High fame, took a punt near the side line and with a burst of speed got clear and ran 65 yards for a touchdown. The attempted conversion was short, and the score was tied at 6-6 as the half ended.

Woodbury Scores

The Terrors put George Washington on the defensive in the third period and worked the ball down to the 3-yard line, but the Colonial line, outplaying the foe's forward wall, threw the opposing backs for losses, and Western Maryland attempted a field goal on the last down but it fell short. But a few minutes later Woodbury grabbed a pass in the clear and ran 20 yards to score. Cumberland place kicked for the point.

Trying desperately to tie the count, the Colonials put on several marches in the last quarter, but were stopped by penalties at crucial moments and could not fashion a sustained drive.

The Indian Chief

LEFT END HENDERSON, Captain of William and Mary. He and his mate on the other side of the line, Halligan, make a pair of superlative wingmen.

Many of their passes were intercepted, but the Terrors could not advance through the line and the game ended without further scoring.

Interfraternity Basketball Features Victories of S. P. E., Acacia, Phi Sig, T. U. O., Sigma Nu, Theta Delta Chi

Centers Prove Spearhead of Attack With Sterling Play in Each Game

The curtain was raised in interfraternity basketball last week with the following teams victorious in their initial contests. Phi Sigma Kappa eked out a two-point victory over a strong Kappa Sig five, 20-18. Sigma Phi Epsilon shared a scoring spree with Delta Tau Delta, winning in the last few minutes, 45-40. Sigma Nu completed the first night's games with an easy win over Sigma Chi, 44-18.

The Thursday night games began with Theta Delta Chi winning over Sigma Mu Sigma, 28-13. In a game featured by close guarding, Theta Upsilon-Omega won over Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 20-12. Acacia won a one-sided game from Kappa Alpha, 38-11.

Phi Sigma Kappa, last year's champions, were hard put to win from Kappa Sig. Outscored from the floor, seven baskets to five, the Phi Sig courtmen, led by Olverson, who converted four of his five tries, took advantage of their foul throws to provide their margin of victory. Monroe for Phi Sig and Hickman, Kappa Sig, led their teams in scoring with six and 10 points, respectively.

The feature of the evening, in regard to excitement and rough play, was the Delta-S. P. E. game. Leading 15-1 at the quarter, the Sig Eps looked to an easy game, only to see the Deltas have a complete reversal of form and provide a contest. Trailing 15-23 at the half and 25-38 at the third quarter, the Deltas with a furious onslaught scored 15 points in rapid succession while limiting their opponents to 2, to tie the score. With the stands in an uproar and two minutes to play, Sig Eps braced and, led by Howell and Wickham with a basket apiece, advanced their score to a safe margin.

Centers Vie for Points

The centers of both teams vied for scoring honors with Parrish of the

Rifle Experience Offered Students

Rifle, a successful sport at G. W. for many seasons, got under way last Monday with virtually the same varsity team that shot last year, besides a turnout for the freshman team which promises much for its initial appearance.

Coach Parsons desires, besides training strong school teams, to give shooting experience, free of charge, to as many students as he can. Practices are held in the basement of Corcoran Hall on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings from 7 to 9, and Monday and Friday between 11 and 8 o'clock.

Delts and Wickham of Sig Eps having 15 and 19 points, respectively.

The Sigma Nu-Sigma Chi contest was a "breather" in comparison with its predecessor. Using a point-a-minute combination, the Sigma Nu's led at the quarter, 19-1. A complete second team was then put into the game, and,

Colonial Basketers Open 1932 Season At Home, Dec. 8

Shenandoah College Opponent in Initial Cage Battle; Excellent Schedule Arranged

Opening the 1932-33 Colonial basketball campaign on December 8 in the home gym will be a game with Shenandoah College. The Virginians, who have furnished the opposition in the season's opener for the past three years, always present a fast, scrappy five, although G. W. U. turned in a 44-27 victory last season.

Coach Jim Pixlee's courtmen will be hard pressed to live up to the standard set last year of ten victories before tasting defeat. An attractive schedule has been arranged, including games with Drake, Duquesne, St. John of Brooklyn, Rider, and Delaware.

Last year's regulars around whom this year's squad will be built are: Parrish and Burgess, forwards; Hartzler, center; and Chambers and Capt. Zahn, guards. Mulvey and Fenlon, first-string reserves of last year, are back in school and will be conspicuous candidates for positions.

Sophs May See Action

Of the freshman squad of last year, Noonan, forward, Wickam, center, and Shirley, guard, are outstanding and may get into actual combat before the season is over.

Sherrill, Howell, Norton, Wray, and Tomkins, all in their first year at George Washington, have previous intercollegiate basketball experience to recommend them for consideration in naming the regulars for this year's Colonial Varsity.

Of the twenty tough games on schedule this year, twelve will be played in the H street "Tin Tabernacle," and the remaining games will give the team the opportunity to visit Pittsburgh, Annapolis, Baltimore, Quantico, Blacksburg, and Newark, Delaware.

Great Minds, You Know Just as a debate at St. Mary's College was about to be begun, someone discovered that both teams had prepared the affirmative side of the question.

Chesterfields are Milder —

Chesterfields Taste Better

You know how it is. If a cigarette is mild—that is, not harsh or bitter, but smokes cool and smooth—then you like it and don't worry about how many or how often you smoke.

And if it tastes right—that is, not oversweet, not flat—then you enjoy it all the more.

The right kind of ripe, sweet Domestic and Turkish tobacco... the right ageing and blending... make Chesterfields milder, better-tasting... They Satisfy!

Student Red Cross Campaign Continues

Membership Drive Ends On Wednesday; Student Council Urges Enrollment

The George Washington University Red Cross drive, begun last week under the auspices of the Student Council, will continue until Wednesday night, November 9. This campaign is being extended by the Student Council in order that every student in the University may have an opportunity to enroll.

The committee in charge of the drive is composed of the members of the Student Council, the secretaries of the various organizations on the campus, and a number of agents-at-large in each college. Students who have not as yet been approached are being urged by this committee to volunteer membership.

Students who would ordinarily join the Red Cross through other channels are urged to do so through the University organization. The same ultimate purpose will be attained and, in addition, credit will accrue to the University and the various organizations within the University.

Next week's Hatchet will carry a list of all organized bodies in the University with percentage of total membership enrolled. Percentage of membership enrolled from each college will also be published.

TROUBADOURS BOOKED FOR 4 NIGHTS; WILL OPEN DECEMBER 14

(Continued from First Page.) numbers are on a par with any of the popular hits of the day coming from Tin Pan Alley, and are closely woven into the plot, rather than being tacked on as ornaments.

A reading of the finished book and a viewing of first rehearsals reveal the production to be fast moving, interest-compelling, and indicative of genius flowered in final form. Dan Beattie, who is not only author of the book and composer of most of the songs but also managing director, has put before the cast an ambitious undertaking which demands real talent and earnest work, because, on the one hand, the dramatic part of the production calls for the sort of interpretation a Belasco play requires, and on the other, the sort of musical and dancing capability which brought fame to Ziegfeld productions.

Not three minutes after the curtain rises complications begin. A big New York production is headed for the rocks because of unforeseen financial difficulties. Personality clashes, a personality, forming a crescendo of dramatic intensity which is cleverly relieved by the louder-and-funnier Joe Danzansky, and also by the laugh-provoking characterizations of Bill Claudy, Audry Edmonds, and Midge Montgomery. George Wells, as a meek and love-stricken cub reporter, provokes deep sympathy which is transformed later into admiration.

Ruth Molyneux, as Reba, will carry the audience with her from the first in her perilous struggle for fame, fortune, and romance, which finally come to her through the person of Bob Northrop, played by Leonard Stevens.

This all-star cast is capably supported by Milton Goodman, Jane Rhodes, Allison McDaniels, and Craig Morris, who, with Audry Edmonds, Midge Montgomery, and George Wells, are new finds of superior dramatic ability.

Under the experienced hand of Dan Beattie, well organized departments are functioning for scenery, publicity, dance routines, properties, and business.

If talent, efficient organization, and willing workers are taken as a basis for judgment, "Oh Say! Can't You See" promises to bring new honors to the Troubadours and the George Washington University.

"COCK ROBIN" MAKES YOUR BLOOD RUN COLD

Providing some excellent comedy relief, Elizabeth Rice contributes a convulsive bit in a burlesque on prominent club women.

Columbian Women Are Sponsors The production of "Cock Robin" is sponsored by Columbian Women under the direction of Mrs. Earl Baldwin McKinley, chairman of the benefit and a committee working with her composed of Mrs. Joseph W. Cox, Mrs. Elmer Louis Kayser, Mrs. Russell McNitt, Miss Margaret Maize, Mrs. Oscar Benwood Hunter, Mrs. Willard Hayes Yeager, Dr. Anna Pearl Cooper, and Miss Elizabeth Reeves. The proceeds will be donated to Lambie House and the employment bureau. Admission will be $1 for all seats. Coffee and cigarettes will be served during the intermission free of charge.

Sophomores in Search Of Homecoming Skits

Special numbers and short acts are needed for the sophomore homecoming skit. All members of the class who are interested have been urged to see one of the committee in charge before Thursday, November 10. This committee is composed of Amanda Chittum, Adele Gusack, Bill Claudy, Joe Danzansky, and Bourke Floyd.

A large alumni audience assembled at the Sir Francis Drake Hotel in San Francisco on November 5 at a luncheon meeting arranged by Orville R. Vaughn, LL.B., 1916, secretary-treasurer of the George Washington University Alumni Club of San Francisco.

Tomorrow a luncheon meeting will be held in Los Angeles, at which Kenneth C. Wiseman, LL.B. 1922, president of the George Washington University Alumni Club of Southern California, will preside.

President Marvin will go from Los Angeles to Denver, Colo., where on November 12 he will meet the alumni at a dinner to be held at the Denver Athletic Club. Lawyer W. Bowen, D.D.S. 1917, president of the alumni club in that city, will preside.

On November 14, in Kansas City, Mo., a luncheon meeting will be held for President Marvin at the University Club. John W. Hudson, LL.B. 1922, is in charge of arrangements.

Chicago alumni will gather at luncheon on November 15 to hear President Marvin. Arrangements are in charge of Colonel Howard Wilkinson Hodgkins, B.S. in C.E. 1913, LL.B. 1916, who is secretary of the alumni club of Chicago.

The same evening, Milwaukee alumni will hold a dinner at the Hotel Astor, preceded by a reception in President Marvin's honor. Eleanor Cushing-Lippitt, M.D. 1916, president of the Milwaukee alumni club, will preside.

The tour of alumni clubs is being made by President Marvin to forward plans which the General Alumni Association presented to the Board of Trustees in May, 1931, to effect a more closely-knit organization of George Washington University alumni throughout the country.

Dr. Daniel LeRay Borden, president of the General Alumni Association, and the other officers of the association, have been particularly anxious to have alumni outside of Washington come in personal contact with President Marvin and with the work he is doing for the University in this year of such quickening activity and enthusiasm.

man Anti-trust Act, trade regulations, Federal Trade Commission, administrative law, Federal courts, public utilities, aliens, constitutional law, interstate commerce, and the Shipping Board.

Endorsement and letters of encouragement were received by the editorial staff from Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, president of the University; William Cabell Van Vleck, dean of the School of Law; Matthew H. O'Brien, president Law School Alumni Association; M. L. Ferson, dean of the University of Cincinnati School of Law; E. C. Arnold, dean of the Vanderbilt School of Law; Alvin E. Evans, dean of the School of Law at the University of Kentucky; and Everett Fraser, dean of the University of Minnesota Law School. The deans of the out-of-town universities were formerly connected with The George Washington School of Law.

Cover Will Be Buff and Blue Combining the University color scheme of buff and blue, the cover of the quarterly will be of a heavy blue stock material with a George Washington University crest in black and buff. To insure a minimum eyestrain upon readers, the Review will incorporate the latest typographical innovations and its leading articles will be set in a plainly readable, leaded type. Footnotes will be in a larger type than that employed in similar publications, and annotations of recent cases will be set in a manner making them more easily distinguishable to the reader. These features combine in making the Law Review of practical value to the student and practitioner.

Subscriptions will be received at the University publications office, according to Henry W. Herzog, graduate manager of University publications. Law students have been urged to make arrangements for their subscriptions to the Review immediately.

Dr. Moss Is Editor Of Psychology Texts

Twenty Volumes Planned. Several to Appear During Winter

Dr. Fred A. Moss, of the psychology department, is the editor of a new series of text books in psychology being published by the Prentice-Hall Co. This series will comprise about twenty text-books covering the various fields of psychology as commonly taught in universities and colleges throughout the country.

Three of the volumes in the series have already appeared. The others will be published within the next year or year and a half. Two of them will appear by Christmas, and six more in the spring. One of the books of the series that has already been published is "Foundations of Abnormal Psychology," in which Dr. Moss and Dr. Hunt, also of our psychology department, collaborated in preparing.

Dr. Moss has arranged for the writing of these books, selecting the authors mainly from the staffs of instruction in psychology in universities throughout the country. All the books pass a final inspection by Dr. Moss.

Women's Athletic Ass'n Announces Sports Schedule

Friday and Saturday, November 11 and 12—Virginia-North Carolina Hockey Association tournament at Sweetbriar College.

November 14 to 18—Fall interclass sports week on the ellipse and monument grounds.

November 18 to 20—Southeast field hockey tournament in Baltimore.

Thursday, December 1, at 7:30 p. m.—Women's Athletic Association fall banquet.

November and December—Intramural volleyball and ping pong tournaments in the old Western Presbyterian Church building on H street, from 3 to 5 daily.

Riding Club Election Awaits Constitution

William Helvestine, Virginia McDowell Serve on Committee

The newly formed Riding Club appointed William Helvestine and Virginia McDowell as a committee to draw a constitution at the last meeting of the society held last Wednesday night. The officers will be elected after the constitution is approved.

The club also decided that it will ride Wednesday and Saturday afternoons at 2:30, and that membership will be limited only to George Washington students, but that others may ride as guests. Virginia McDowell must be notified at least 24 hours before riding so that arrangements with the riding academy can be made.

All persons interested in riding, regardless of their ability, are invited to attend the meeting of the club Wednesday evening, November 9, in Corcoran 16, at 8:00 p. m.

Home Economics Societies Plan Series of Lectures

"The Work of the Dietitian" will be the subject on which Miss Filbert, head dietitian at The George Washington University Hospital, will speak at the next joint meeting of the Home Economics Club and Alpha Pi Epsilon, home economics sorority, on Wednesday evening, November 9. She is the first of the well-known speakers to be brought to the societies in connection with their program for the year.

On Tuesday, November 15, the two societies will entertain in honor of the Land Grant College delegates from all parts of the United States, who are attending the biennial convention here. Since George Washington is not a Land Grant College, their presence here is quite an honor.

Iron Gate Inn Scene of Hour Glass Pledging and Supper; Student Council Dance After Game to Be in Corcoran

Coeds Attend Annapolis Game and Regimental Hop; Pledge Teas Continue

The Student-Interfraternity Councils' dance and informal radio parties celebrating George Washington's spectacular victory over North Dakota on Friday night, furnished the climax of the past week's social functions. Wardman again seems to be the chief gathering place of many, and, all told, students are not lacking in places to go and things to do.

Hour Glass, honorary activities fraternity, held a pledging and supper at Iron Gate Inn on Sunday, November 6. Edith Grosvenor, Evelyn Iverson, Evelyn Kerr, Dorothy Neiss, Catherine Prichard, and Betty Reynolds were the six University women pledged. Guests included Miss Anna Cooper, professor of English, Mrs. John Donaldson, and Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle.

Councils to Give Dance in Corcoran Hall After W. & M. Game

The last dance of the Student and Interfraternity Councils, held in Corcoran Hall, was so successful that another will be given next Friday night following the William and Mary game. Emory Daugherty and his orchestra again furnish the music.

Burgess Roberts and Ruth Schaub spent the week end in Richmond.

On Sunday afternoon members of the local chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma were guests at a tea given by Tau Kappa Pi at Goucher.

Clara Critchfield spent the week end at Bay Ridge.

Devotees of Volley Ball and Ping Pong Begin Tournaments

Kappa Kappa Gamma and A. D. Pi Win at Volley Ball; 3 Ping Pong Matches

The first games of the intramural ping pong and volleyball tournaments were played off during the past week.

Six volleyball games were scheduled on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. On Wednesday, November 2, Sigma Kappa was defeated by Kappa Kappa Gamma, 9-15, 15-11, 15-11, and Alpha Delta Pi won from Kappa Delta, 15-7, 15-6. Kappa Kappa Gamma again won on Thursday, November 3, defeating Phi Sigma Sigma after three close games, 9-15, 15-14, 15-14. The game between Zeta Tau Alpha and Colonial Campus Club which also was to be played, November 3, is to be re-scheduled, due to defaults from both teams.

Chi Omega won from Colonial Campus Club on Friday, November 4, by default. Kappa Delta defaulted to Phi Mu the same afternoon.

Only three games have been played in the ping pong tournament. Pi Beta Phi won from Colonial Campus Club on Wednesday, November 2, 6-3, 6-2. Due to lack of time Kappa Delta conceded the second game to Alpha Epsilon Phi, after the Alpha Epsilon Phi's won the first set, 6-0. Kappa Kappa Gamma defeated Delta Zeta, Friday November 4, by a score of 6-1, 6-0.

Week's Schedule Announced

Helen Mitchell, manager of the tournament, announces the volleyball games to be played this week as scheduled.

November 10, Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Delta Zeta, Alpha Delta Pi vs. Phi Mu; November 11, Phi Sigma Sigma vs. Delta Zeta, Pi Beta Phi vs. Delta Zeta; November 14, Zeta Tau Alpha vs. Chi Omega, Alpha Epsilon Phi vs. Phi Mu; November 15, Zeta Tau Alpha vs. Pi Delta, Colonial Campus Club vs. Pi Beta Phi; November 16, Chi Omega, vs. Phi Delta.

The ping pong games are as follows: November 10, Pi Beta Phi vs. Phi Delta; November 11, Alpha Delta Pi vs. Alpha Delta Pi vs. Phi Mu; Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Sigma Kappa; November 15, Colonial Campus Club vs. Chi Omega; November 16, Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Phi Sigma Sigma, Alpha Delta Pi vs. Phi Mu.

All games are to be played at 3 p. m. in the old church on H street. In case one team cannot be present, either Helen Mitchell or Harriet Atwell must be notified by 12 o'clock on the day the game is to be played, or the fine for default will be imposed.

Hood College Host To Women Athletes In Sports Program

G. W. Coeds Vie With Entrants From Hood and Goucher in Competition

Eighty five women athletes from George Washington participated in a sports day competition with 100 entrants from Hood College and 65 from Goucher College at Hood on Saturday, November 5. G. W. class teams were entered in soccer, hockey, volleyball, tennis and archery.

As hostess to the athletes and their coaches, Hood provided ping pong and tennisquits games during the afternoon; social entertainment after the events, and dinner served at Coblenz hall. Mrs. Vinnie G. Barrows, director of women's personnel guidance; Prof. Ruth Atwell, of the women's physical education department; Miss Helen Lawrence, soccer coach; Miss Agnes Rogers, hockey coach; and Miss Ruth Aubeck, tennis and archery coach, accompanied the George Washington team.

A unique feature of the sports day was the "bridge" tennis tournament which was successfully run off between teams of different numbers on five tennis courts by having the winners of a set progress to the next highest numbered court. In this event Betty Cochran, Hortense Gifford, Virginia Dillman, and Mary Louise Braselton scored 44 points for the University against Hood's 16 and Goucher's 25.

The scores of the hockey games are as follows: Junior-senior teams—G. W. 2, Hood 0; G. W. 1, Goucher 3; Goucher 2, Hood 1. Sophomore teams—G. W. 1, Goucher 0; G. W. 0, Hood 2; Goucher 0, Hood 0. Freshman teams—G. W. 0, Hood 5; G. W. 0, Goucher 4; Goucher 2, Hood 1. This tabulation shows a total of 6 G. W. goals against 9 for Hood and 11 for Goucher. Hockey was played in 20 minute games with no time out.

In soccer there was only one game, played between Hood and George Washington teams; George Washington 3, Hood 1.

An interesting event in the volleyball matches was a mixed faculty game with the close score of 32-34.

In archery George Washington rolled up a score of 641 points against Hood's 536. The high point scorers were Frances Niles of G. W., with 152, and Misses Wells and Dutrow of Hood with 122 and 116, respectively. The tournament consisted in four ends at 30 yards and four at 40 yards.

The volleyball score board showed George Washington quite in the rear. Junior Senior teams: G. W. 26, Hood 56; G. W. 18, Goucher 37; Goucher 30, Hood 22. Sophomore teams: G. W. 39, Hood 28; G. W. 25, Goucher 31; Goucher 28, Hood 27. Freshman teams: G. W. 6, Hood 61; Goucher 46, Hood 30.

Emory Daugherty's Band Again to Play

EMORY DAUGHERTY

Emory Daugherty, radio broadcasting favorite, and his orchestra will again be the feature of the football hop to be given Friday night in Corcoran Hall immediately following the George Washington-William and Mary football game.

Daugherty enjoys an interesting and successful musical career which began as a trap drummer and lead to prominence with his own orchestra. He has played in many famous summer resorts and in competition with many famous bands. While in Boston the past summer he played in opposition to such orchestras as those of Paul Whiteman, Guy Lombardo, Ted Weem and Ted Lewis. In a contest staged at Norumbega he and his orchestra broke all attendance records in competition with the above bands as an attraction.

As a collegiate favorite, Daugherty has played for proms at V. P. I., North Carolina, V. M. I., Virginia and many others.

Emory composed "A College Sweetheart" which has become very popular throughout the country and will be featured on the dance program Friday night.

Columbian Women Hear Last Year's History of Activity

At the last meeting of the Columbian Women of the George Washington University, the history of the organization for 1931-32 was read by Miss Peet, who served as historian last year.

Miss Peet pointed out as outstanding accomplishments of the year, the gift of $1,000 to the University, $500 to assist in the purchase of the replica of the Houdon statue of George Washington now in the College Yard, and $500 to establish the Fourth Columbian Women scholarship fund, which was named for the late Mrs. Grace Ross Chamberlain. Other accomplishments were the organization of sections to promote friendship and stimulate special interests among the membership, and the revision of the Constitution.

Miss Rhoda Watkins, chairman of the membership committee presented the following candidates who were elected to membership: Miss Evelyn Eller, Mrs. Charles H. Payne, and Mrs. Gertrude Driscoll Howard.

The literature section of Columbian Women will meet on Wednesday evening, November 9, at 8:15 p. m., in Lambie House. A Bicentennial program is to be given, which all members of the organization are invited to attend.

After College WHAT?

Insurance?

Julian S. Myrick, famous New York general agent, says: "Selling life insurance is the best paid hard work there is. No capital required other than a good character, an active mind and perseverance. Any young man with these qualifications will find a great future in insurance."

NO OTHER BUSINESS offers greater rewards for hard work. But insurance offers some pretty tough problems. Perhaps that explains why in this business, as in college, a pipe is the most popular smoke.

While you "cram" for that exam ... or later when you figure out the best way to sell a $100,000 policy, just light up a pipeful of Edgeworth Smoking Tobacco.

Edgeworth is the favorite college smoke. And only in Edgeworth can you find that distinctive blend of fine old burley tobacco. If you would like to try before you buy, just write Latus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va., for a free sample package.

* A recent investigation showed Edgeworth the favorite smoke at 42 out of 64 leading colleges

Trained Speakers Chosen in Senior Oratorical Contest

Corcoran Hall Is to Be Scene of the Contest Next Tuesday Evening

The contestants for the 85th Davis Prize Speaking Contest which will take place next Tuesday evening, November 15, in Corcoran Hall, at 8 o'clock, have been chosen.

The seniors who are to participate in this competition, sponsored annually by the department of public speaking, and the subjects of their orations, are as follows: DeWitt Bennett, "The Price of Culture"; Mary Eleanor Grindell, "The Problem of the Nations"; Ben Hope, "Youth in a Finished World"; Seymour Mintz, "Capitalism Has Not Broken Down"; Elizabeth Reeves, "Socialism and the Next Era"; Richard A. Tilden, "Centralized Control of Industry."

Most of these speakers have had considerable experience in speaking and debating on this and other campuses. DeWitt Bennett has been on the intercollegiate debating team for two years. Mintz has been on the debating team for one year and has been identified with the Speakers' Congress. He recently took the part of Norman Thomas in the Presidential campaign rally, sponsored by that organization. Elizabeth Reeves has been a member of the women's intercollegiate debating team for four years.

Bennett, Tilden, and Elizabeth Reeves are members of Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic society. Tilden, who is a first-year law student, transferred here from the University of Southern California.

Ben Hope participated in intercollegiate debate at the University of Idaho. He transferred to George Washington from Leland Stanford University.

Keyser Is Chairman
The chairman of the contest this year is Professor Elmer Louis Keyser, who won the contest in 1917, with an oration entitled, "The Position of the Supreme Court in Our Constitutional System."

The judges who will award the prizes are Dr. Stephen E. Kramer, assistant superintendent of schools of the District of Columbia and alumni representative of the Board of Trustees; Mr. Gilbert L. Hall, lecturer in the Law School and national vice president of Delta Sigma Rho; and Professor S. Chesterfield Oppenheim, of the Law School.

"Who Killed Cock Robin" Solved in 1 Shot

Hatchet Staff Photograph

Who killed Cock Robin? A man shot before your eyes. Suspicion on all; proof of guilt on none.

In the enacting of a duel scene from a play presented by a group of community players, Hancock Robinson (Cock Robin), a man hated with reason by every other man of the cast, was actually shot. Someone took advantage of the poor timing of on-stage and off-stage shots. The report of his pistol passed unnoticed in the fusillade.

Behind locked doors, in the darkened theater, and with the body of the slain man lying as mute witness, the actors desperately try to find the killer or some explanation of the tragedy.

Four thespians of the Cue and Curtain stage a dramatic lethal scene from the organization's forthcoming production—"Cock Robin." Tom Tyler, Margaret Gilligan, Kenneth Romney and Royal Gunnison are the players pictured. With many scenes such as the one photographed, the fall production promises to be one of interest to those interested in killings, mysteries, and insidious characters.

Heimbürger Heads Engineers' Function

Chosen Temporary Chairman of Annual Ball to Be Given in January

Ray A. Heimbürger has been appointed temporary chairman of the Engineers' Ball, annual School for Engineering function, by the newly formed Engineers' Council. The council is planning an Engineers' Day when it will invite the entire University to a tea-dance in the afternoon and the Engineers' Ball at night.

Elaborate plans are being made for this year's ball in an attempt to continue the tradition begun by the successful affair held last year at the Shoreham Hotel, with 500 people present. The date for the ball has not been definitely set, but it will probably be held soon after January 1. The affair will be held in one of the larger Washington hotel ball rooms. Plans for the function include, at present, the engagement of a nationally known orchestra, a grand march, an elaborate floor show, and the usual gossip sheet (rumored to be edited by Dick Rollo), to be followed by an unusual and unique event which promises to become a school tradition.

The Engineers' Ball will be attended by President Cloyd Heck Marvin, members of the University faculty, prominent Washington engineers, and students from The George Washington University and other colleges.

Faculty Women Hold First Meeting Friday

The Faculty Women of George Washington University will hold the first meeting of the year at a luncheon at the Cosmos Club on Friday, November 11, at 1:00 p. m.

Provost William Allen Wilbur will be the guest of honor. He will speak on "The Romance of the Sea." The president, Mrs. Robert Fiske Griggs, will preside, and Miss Anna P. Cooper will introduce the speaker. At the head table in addition to the officers, will be Mrs. Cloyd H. Marvin, Mrs. William Allen Wilbur, and Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins.

Second Hatchet Reporters Class Will Meet Friday Noon

A second class in journalism for reporters of The Hatchet will be given this week in Corcoran Hall 15 Friday at 12:10. Last week's attendance was so great that The Hatchet office was not large enough to accommodate all people interested.

A few of the essentials of reporting and headline writing are treated in preparation for an examination to be required of all candidates within the next three weeks. Attendance is optional, but more than 40 were present at the first meeting last Friday.

Neff Retains Lead In Golfing Tourney

Women's Tournament Is Expected to Be Completed By Thanksgiving

Nellie Mae Neff is holding the lead in the women's golf tournament, although this event is still too much in its infancy for any real speculations to be made regarding the merits of the participants. Only the first two rounds of the contest have been completed, but the tournament will be finished by Thanksgiving, according to Virginia Lee Dillman, manager of women's golf.

Nellie Mae's first match was a close one in which she finally defeated Virginia Dillman 2 up. Her match with Mary Jane Salmon was less closely contested and the latter was defeated 5 up.

Considerable interest was created by the Helen Le-Duc and Alice Kennedy match which was finally decided on the sixteenth hole by the former's gaining a lead of three holes. Mary Jane Salmon won over Louise Wright in a rather closely contested match with a score of 3 up.

INTERFRAT BASKETBALL SEASON IS LAUNCHED

although inferior to the first line-up, managed to hold a safe margin at the half. Alternating their assortment of players, Sigma Nu ran up a commanding lead in the third quarter and coasted in to win.

Troup led the Sigma Nu scoring with 14 points, while Garber scored four of his team's five goals.

In a mild game, Theta Delta, led by Molyneux with 13 points, won over Sigma Mu Sigma.

In a game closer than the score indicates, T. U. O. featured a strong defense with Newland as its main exponent. Although always in the lead, T. U. O. was ever in danger due to its inability to pierce the S. A. E. defense. McGrew led his team's scoring with 10 points, with Asher outstanding for S. A. E.

Acacia, with a consistently strong attack, had an easy time with K. A. In possession of the ball most of the time, the Acacia courtmen had time to work a varied assortment of plays, while limiting their opponents to three field goals. Kelso featured the attack, with 13 points, and was ably assisted by Griffith.

Centers Have Starred

Although early for any predictions, the standout teams have been S. P. E., Sigma Nu, and Acacia. Another feature of the games so far has been the play of the centers of the teams. Four of the leading scorers are centers on their teams, and each center has been the spearhead of his team's play. The margin of victory will probably rest upon the centers, and the future battles will be interesting to watch.

This week's schedule is as follows:
Tuesday night—8:00, Sigma Chi vs. Sigma Kappa; 9:15, S. P. E. vs. K. A.; 10:30, Kappa Sigma vs. S. A. E.
Thursday night—8:00, Sigma Mu Sigma vs. Delta Tau Delta; 9:15, Sigma Nu vs. T. U. O.; 10:30, Acacia vs. Theta Delta Chi.

Concert Orchestra Scheduled in Initial Public Appearance

Personnel of Symphony Group, Showing 27 Members, Is Announced

The newly organized George Washington symphony orchestra is, according to Mr. Louis Malkus, ready to make its appearance in the University life. It is already scheduled to offer its initial performance at the presentation of the Cue and Curtain play, "Cock Robin," which is being given at the Wardman Park theater, November 18 and 19.

Soon after this, the orchestra in full will give a concert at the reception for the Board of Trustees at the Mayflower Hotel, Wednesday evening, November 23, preceding the Homecoming dance.

The personnel of the orchestra has been announced by the director, Mr. Malkus. It is as follows:

Violins—Bernard Milofsky, A. K. Clayton, Henry Davis, Harold Breithaupt, M. R. Deutsch, C. Freedman, Frances Brantley; viola, Grace Giffen; cello, Louis Bradford, D. A. Jessup, John A. Hain; bass, Charles McCoy, Bert Smith; trumpet, Rex Nelson, H. C. Carlson; clarinet, Edgar Brower, Sam Macuilla; bassoon, Leonard Schuman; flute, Carl Smith, Eleanor Yocum; trombone, John Kangas, S. W. Peterson; drum, David Flox; French horn, M. L. Burnside, Orrin Bartlett; piano, Mildred Goben.

Sidney W. Gottlieb is assistant conductor.

It is of interest to note that of the present 27 musicians in the orchestra, which is an outgrowth of the band, four are girls, and it is expected that more will be added to this number.

VIRGINIA COLLEGE HAS AGGREGATION WITH BUT TWO DEFEATS

ily subduing Randolph-Macon the following week. Coach Kellison's boys then journeyed to Annapolis, where they handed Navy a 7-0 defeat on their home field.

Palese Starred

Balese, a fleet-footed 175-pound back, was the hero of the game. Capable at any of the backfield positions, and an exceptionally fast broken field runner, he constantly threatened the Navy goal line, and was responsible for the lone score of the game.

Following the Navy game the team accepted a breathing spell, and without great difficulty put the Guilford College gridmen down 47-0. Virginia Poly was the next foe, and the Indians held them to 7-0; it was this same V. P. I. outfit that defeated Kentucky and forced the Crimson Tide of Alabama to be satisfied with a 9-6 victory. Washington and Lee, though exhibiting the best football that they have played this season, were taken to the tune of 7-0. The trip to West Point was the next event for the Virginians.

The score of the Army game, 33-0, does not indicate the quality of football displayed. Army is considered by many experts to be the strongest team in the East. Worrell, William and Mary back, so superbly returned the Army punts that the Cadets, fearing he would break loose, made all of their kicks out of bounds after the first few minutes of play. It was this same Worrell who ran 102 yards for a touchdown against Bridgewater last season. He weighs 175 pounds.

Bridges, the Indians' 220-pound center, carries the bulk of the line burden; and is perhaps the best linesman on the squad. At the end position is Captain Halligan, weighing 195 pounds and 6 feet 1 inch in height, the star. Halligan's illness, which kept him out of the V. M. I. game last Saturday, is not expected to keep him from the line-up when his team meets the Colonials Friday. He does most of the kicking for the Indians and averages 65 yards on his punts.

Team Has Strong Backfield

Besides the above mentioned stars, the squad has the services of three other first rank backs. Spack, who tips the scales at 205, is one of the best defensive backs in this vicinity. Cholko, a triple threat man, does the kicking when Halligan is out of the game; he is also well versed in the arts of passing and blocking. Charlie Shade, sophomore quarterback, led the dazzling attack against V. M. I. last Saturday. His efforts netted a 20-7 victory.

Fraternity Pledge Council Announces Prom in December

Pledge Class With Highest Scholastic Average Will Receive Cup

A headliner on the University social calendar has been announced by the Interfraternity Pledge Council through its publicity director, Jack Morton, who is handling press material and promoting the annual University pledge prom. The dance will be held on Saturday, December 10, it has been tentatively decided. Negotiations are under way with the District's leading orchestras in an endeavor to make the event one of unusual social prominence. A ballroom has not yet been selected.

The council has also announced the presentation of a scholarship cup to be awarded to the fraternity whose pledge class maintains the highest scholastic average for the first semester. A committee has been appointed to select an appropriate loving cup and stimulate enthusiasm for the award.

Committee appointments made by the group are: Social, George Hawse, chairman; Cotton Gayette, Woodrow Thomas, Lowell Bradford, Herbert Wildman, Frederick Bullard; publicity, Jack Morton; printing, Herbert Wildman; council constitution revision, Sam Caldwell, chairman; Woodrow Thomas, and James Kurtz; selection and presentation of scholarship cup, Harrison Knapp, chairman, Jack Morton, Cherry Tree, Jack Morrison, Jack Morton, and James Kurtz.

"I believe you love
that old pipe better than you do me!"

Granger is made solely for pipes.

Granger is not a cigarette tobacco.

Granger is made of White Burley tobacco
—the best tobacco for pipes. Just try it!

Load it pinch by pinch;
pack it tight; strike a match—Granger smokes
cool and lasts longer.
